HOW IT WORKS

Patented light technology

Infuses light into the water you drink.

Advanced, dual-stage filtration system

The Primary Filter forms the core of LifeWave X₂O's contaminant-reduction system. Created from a powerful filter system that is designed to reduce a broad range of impurities found in municipal tap water.

Hydrogen enrichment process

Further improves purity while adding hydrogen to the water.

Hydrogen claims disclaimer: There are potential benefits of hydrogen-rich water on various aspects of health, including exercise capacity, physical endurance, and oxidative stress. While the initial research looks promising, more studies are needed to fully understand the extent of these benefits and the mechanisms behind them.

Our Primary Filter technology is currently undergoing accredited laboratory testing, state registrations, and full NSF certification. The Primary Filter was previously tested to remove all major water contaminants. In order for us to make formal written claims, the filter requires additional testing in our product configuration. We have selected this premium filter to best integrate with our technology, as well as with the secondary filtration and Hydrogen stages.
